UCF ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME

Six former Knights baseball players have been inducted into the UCF Athletics Hall of Fame: Jason Arnold, Tim Barker, Tim Foskett, Calvin Lingelbach, Chad Mottola and Justin Pope.

Jason Arnold - 1998-01

A 2001 All-American, Jason Arnold is the UCF all-time leader in saves, appearances and strikeouts per nine innings. In four seasons with the Knights, he had a 2.38 ERA, a 30-11 record, 27 saves and 330 strikeouts in 249.2 innings. While he only started 19 outings, Arnold still had five complete games, all in 2001.

Tim Barker - 1984-85

The NCAA Division I all-time leader for hits in a season, Tim Barker set the bar for all college players when he banged out 142 base hits during the 1985 season. He also swiped 104 bases and finished his two-year career with 208 hits and 144 steals in 157 attempts.

Tim Foskett - 1980-83

Tim Foskett was a 1983 Division II All-American for the Knights, while he also picked up 1980 All-South Region Team and 1983 All-Sunshine Conference honors. After having three-straight seasons batting over .300, Foskett set the UCF single-season record with a .444 mark in 1983.

Calvin Lingelbach - 1974, 76, 78

An All-South Region Team member in 1978, Cal Lingelbach batted .300 and had a .990 fielding percentage in his final season with UCF. He also shined away from the diamond as he ranks fifth all-time with 161 steals for the basketball team.

Chad Mottola - 1990-92

One of UCF's most productive players during the 1990s, Chad Mottola represented UCF as a D-I All-American in 1992 and still ranks in the top 10 in numerous career statistical categories. The '92 season alone saw Mottola bang out 14 homers and seven triples en route to becoming the first Knight to be drafted in the MLB First Round.

Justin Pope - 1999-01

Often referred to as "Bulldog," Pope helped guide the Knights to the NCAA Regionals in 2000 and 2001, with a ranking coming in as high as No. 7 in 2001. He stands as the program's career leader with 32 wins and 335 strikeouts in addition to a laundry list of all-time records. Pope also broke Roger Clemens' NCAA record by pitching 38.1 consecutive innings without giving up a run in 2001.

A LOOK BACK

Junior high schools and Tinker Field helped get UCF's baseball program off the ground the first few years of existence beginning with the club team in 1970, but the Knights finally had a home in 1979 with the construction of the UCF Baseball Complex.

The facility was located south of the Wayne Densch Sports Center, and featured a press box that nestled itself atop the first-base dugout, a few sets of bleachers and a couple of uncovered batting cages.

UCF remained at the complex through the 1998 season. During that time, it witnessed the Knights reach the 1979 NCAA Division II South Regional and UCF make the transition to D-I in 1985.

When the 1990s brought many successful campaigns, UCF decided that a bigger stadium was needed. The Knights played their 1999 and 2000 schedules at Tinker Field in Orlando before opening Jay Bergman Field in 2001.

National Rankings

UCF has been ranked as high as No. 6 in the country when it achieved that mark in the Baseball America Top 25 from March 10-29, 2015. Meanwhile, here's a breakdown of the Knights' highest ranking each season they were in the Collegiate Baseball Newspaper poll.
